Welcome to high school graduation, plus 50 years!

For those who are able to join us for this weekend of celebration, we're glad you're here! Take in and enjoy every minute! For those who are not able to join us, please know that we miss you and wish you well, and hope that you can join us in the future for a reunion.

This process has been a labor of love and the reconnections being made are nothing short of spectacular. So many people have come together to help with organizing, sharing, helping to prepare for this weekend. It's a testament to who we are as a class and as human beings. Like we said back in the day, "73 really is the class to be!!"

The list of folks who have helped along the way is long. I will make every effort to remember everyone, but if I left out a name, it was not intentional. Please know that your help is very appreciated and so important in helping to pull this off.

First off, thank you Vickie Vogel Zalaznik for being my sounding board. You were there at every turn to listen to ideas, help make decisions, offer suggestions, proofread emails, and set me straight when I couldn't even think past my nose.

Thanks Barb Appel for your amazing work in a field where I am NOT gifted in at all! Helping me navigate the computer world is a feat on its own, and your patience was wonderful. It reminded me of when you tried so hard to help me through algebra in high school. Your efforts were commendable, but it just wasn't there for me! This booklet you created will be read and re-read by so many and the memories captured will be cherished forever. Our name tags are perfect, and the beautiful memorial poster you've created is such a great way to honor those that we have lost.

Thanks Jack Specht for taking the initiative to organize the gathering of football players and the chance for everyone to watch films of the “good old days” and reminisce.

Thank you Greg Adams, Joe Leiser, and Donna Metz Loewen for spearheading the golf committee. This event has been a constant at our reunions and I always hear “a few” stories of shenanigans on the course. Thanks for keeping it fun and inclusive and something everyone looks forward to.

Speaking of Donna, thank you so much for sharing your talent in making the posters and display boards for our evening event. It’s fun to share these things with everyone and you did a great job displaying them!

Thank you, Jim Hauber, for agreeing to be our emcee for the evening. We look forward to your commentary and know that you will keep us entertained as well as informed. Thank you, also, for bringing us Jim Brickman and his beautiful piano music. We appreciate his talent and entertainment.

Thanks to Lori Meyer Datisman for agreeing to help us with our live auction. This has become a very fun event, and we are so lucky to have your auctioneering skills to guide us through it.

Dan Grevas! Thank you for being our personal photographer for this and all previous events. The memories you capture are priceless.

Thanks to Julie Maddox for helping to locate and notify our former teachers and school administrators and inviting them to this reunion. We’re so happy that they are able to join us.

Thanks to our friends from the “Class of 74”, Mary Ann Johannsen Specht, Rudi Specht, and Chuck Davis, who are helping with the check-in table and the silent auction.

This takes so much pressure off, so that our classmates can spend their time talking and visiting and not have to worry about the mechanics of the night.

Thank you to all of the people who donated items for our auctions. What a great variety of things we have to help raise money for our scholarship fund!

And last, but not least, thank you to ALL of the classmates who have helped locate other classmates and got us reconnected for this event. Whether you contacted someone yourself, or sent us an address, or an email, or let us know someone had passed away, it was so appreciated. A lot of effort is made to keep our contact list current. For every email address or contact info you’ve shared to help keep our group together, thank you! This makes organizing these reunions so much easier and it’s why we have such great turnouts every time, with people always saying they can’t wait until next time!

Okay, that’s all from me. If I failed to mention your name, but you had any part of this great weekend, I’m sorry. Please know that I truly appreciate your help and your contributions. I get many kind notes and messages from you thanking me for all of my “hard work” and time in putting this together. It isn’t hard at all. As you can see from the list above, I do not do this alone. I COULD not do this alone. It is a group effort and what an awesome group we have! Thank you for making this happen. We are so lucky to have each other. Now, go enjoy! Enjoy the booklet, the weekend, the memories, all of it!

Friends forever,
Deb Johnsen Zenner

information: At Iowa I spent four years in the marching band, where as a freshman it was only the second year women were allowed in the band. Have we come a long way, baby? I met my husband when I was a senior at Iowa and he was a first year law student. He is also from Dubuque, though we never met there, he being a product of Wahlert and Western Reserve. We raised two daughters in Edina, MN. How quickly those years of dance lessons, piano lessons, Girl Scouts, spelling bees, band concerts, Mock Trial, college choices, and preparing them to leave the nest flew by. I enjoyed a career as a computer programmer/analyst, having been fortunate enough to be able to play on computers as a career, while Gene enjoyed a career in corporate law. Although always interested in travel, our travels began in earnest after visiting our daughter, Alison, in Germany during her study abroad, and our daughter, Samantha, in New Zealand during her study abroad. We retired in 2015 and have hiked and biked in well-known places in Europe and lesser-known places in New Zealand. I continue to play in community bands and continue to try and master the German language through Stammtisch groups. Life is good.

Favorite memory of Hempstead: My favorite thing was the variety of activities a person could get involved in in high school to find out what may interest you in life. I found that indispensable in making me a well-rounded adult with a variety of interests, many of which started in high school and amongst the people I met there.

Additional information: Life has had its ups and downs. In many ways I am not where I thought I'd be at this point in my life as I had imagined it in high school when the whole world of possibilities was wide open. But, in other ways my life has been so much fuller than I ever could have imagined with my limited outlook at the time. I'd sure like to have a time machine and spend a day looking over the shoulder of my teenage self to see if my memory of myself matches with how I really was!

Favorite memory of Hempstead: I did not have any special memories from school. Senior year was great.

Favorite teacher: There were good teachers at Hempstead but I did not have a favorite ... from there. I was in the Vocational Homebuilding Class with students from the three high schools combined to build a home on Kane Court. Mr. Witt from Senior High School was our teacher, I learned a lot from that class and he had a lot of patience with us.

Favorite class: Vocation Home Building, it was not in a conventional classroom; hands-on learning in all aspects of home construction which is knowledge that has been beneficial throughout my life.

Additional information: All I can say is life is good. My wife and I have been blessed with occupations that provided a good living and a family to be proud of. Our children are leading successful lives and are raising their children with good values. I could ask for nothing more.

Favorite memory of Hempstead: When I was a sophomore, I purchased a 1947 Willy's Jeep (red with black inside). I was asked to drive four young ladies in the Homecoming Parade in the Jeep. I agreed to do so and thought it would be a good idea to paint the Jeep (the night before thinking it would be dry by parade time). I hand painted the exterior as well as the interior, with a little extra attention to the black benches in back. The next morning I realized the benches in back were a little tacky to the touch! I picked up the packages and they sat in back on the benches and waved enthusiastically to the crowd on the sides of the street. When the parade concluded they got out and walked away in their dresses, All With Black Behinds, "Tushes." Attractive, I might add. None the less, they all had to get new dresses for the dance! I was not very popular with several mothers. It was still a good night as a recall, as well as the many incidents that had occurred over the four years.

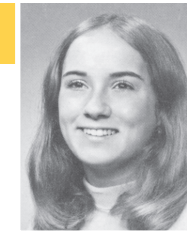

Favorite teacher: Perhaps Mr. Ruden

Favorite class: Some of the government and history classes. Probably used the typing class in a productive manner the most, that I believe Mr. Getty taught.

Additional information: Look forward to the 50th reunion, as the last one I attended may have been the 25th. Certainly appreciate all that make it happen.

Favorite coach: There were several favorite coaches and teachers who instilled much-needed discipline in a kid from a broken home.

Additional information: In 1982 I had an unusual conversion experience. Previously, I was a violent, arrogant, insolent man. A street fighter, bar room brawler, drunkard, liar, thief, fornicator, and blasphemer. I stood guilty before the Judge of the Universe for my life's crimes and deserved a death sentence of eternal punishment. But Jesus stepped in and paid my fine with His life and blood on the Cross. God, the Just Judge, had mercy on me, and because of Jesus, pardoned all my sins. Don't ask me why God did it. I don't deserve it. I just bow my knee to it. Hallelujah!

Hempstead: It is hard to pick just one. I had the opportunity to meet so many of my best friends my sophomore year at Hempstead, who are still my best friends today. Junior year swim team brought many great memories including our team qualified for the Iowa State swim meet in individual and relay events. I also always really enjoyed the many school dances, including Winter formals, Proms, and Sadie Hawkins.
